The defense of the country, A tre careful consideration. I have joured the Wlison independent the best interest of the country reunires Mr. Wilson's re-election,

My chief reasons for voting for President Wilson follow:

1. The sa-called Issues of "Americanism." preparedness, the Lusitan'a Incident, the Mexican situation, and all others that have grown out of toreign affairs, appear to me to be merely "red herrings across the trad" intended to put the public off the scent. I have little doubt that, ity diverting attention from themsilves to these tramed-up issues, the Republican "old guard" hope to "put over" on the public another "Payne-Aldrich" tarlff, They expect to work the war and Mexico for all they are worth to both hide and guide their own private interests after the election.

2. Moreover, quite irrespective of the moral issue in "protection," it reems to me had national policy to keep the tariff louger in polities. The cirction of Mr. linghes would surely do this. That of Mr. Wilson ranging from $50,000 to $5,000,000; would at least go far toward drop- n 10 per cent, net profit tax on manping the tariff out of polities and toiff. It is worth noting that if such a result can be accomplished through and a Ilcense tax on actually investa tarlff commission, it will certainly not be through a tariff commission appointed by protectionists.

Though there have been occasions during the Wilson administration when panies might have been thrown, had the same men been in control of the finances, none has occurred because the federal reserve act has stripped them of the dangerous power and placed the fiscal affairs directly in control of the government. This achievement alone ought to insure and doubtless will, the re-election of President Wilson, even if there were not scores of other lasting benefits from the constructive legislati n enacted by a patriotic Congress.

A Card to Owners of Rural Telephone Lines

We are anxious to see that all lines owned by other parties and connected with us are kept in such condition as to furnish efficient service. Where the owners of rural lines are responsible for their upkeep, we want to co-operate with them.

All lines require a thorough overeauling occasionally if the best service is to be obtained. We recommend that every line connected with us be overhauled at least once a year, and that at least one experienced telephone man assist in this work. The cost of this work when divided among all the patrons of the line, makes the amount paid by each man small, and this cost will be more than offset by the improved service.

If the owners of rural telephone lines in this section are experiencing trouble with their service, we will appreciate their talking the matter over with our Manager or writing us fully. We will gladly do what we can toward helping you improve the condition of your line.

THE REAL TRUTH ABOUT THE RUINEO RAILROADS

The Present Prosperity Seems To Be Just Playing Smash With Them.

The full ruln wrought among our rafireads by temporary prosperby, so deprecated by Mr. Hughes, can be understood by an analysis of the latest of earnings for July and then for the past six months. For the month of July the story is told in this dispatch from Washington:

$75,525,939 for July, 1915, for 150 last. Agnew, after sixty-four years' the Interstate Commerce Commis- pension roll,

"The gross revenue for the roads reporting was $265,517,824, or more said. "Rather than quit I would than $40,000,000 over a year ago, work for nothing," The gross expenses were $172,102,-560, or about $21,000,000 more than had to be enforced. John Agnew a year ago.

This comparison is equally signifleant if we take the complete returns for the first slx months of 1916, and covering nearly the whole system, or, to be exact, 249,246 miles, instead of 150 roads.

The gross earnings for 1916 were 1.731 millions; net earnings, 559. biii, voted against: The operating expenses are 68 per cent, of the gross.

In 1915 the gross earnings for the same period were 1,407 millions; stuffs, the net earnings were 394 millions; | the operating expenses were 72 per dumping.

This is ruination at arithmetical progression, and recalls one of the stories of Private John Ailen:

BOILING WATER.

It is Not Always Hot and Sometimes

May Be Barely Heated. If you senld yourself with the teakettle you are apt to think that bolling water is a pretty hot proposition. But bolling water is not always very hot water, and this is the way it happens.

When water bolls ordinarily it is beuse great heat has separated the tiny articles of the water, forcing upward and outward in lively bubbles the air which is contained in them. This is dono in spite of the downward pressure of the atmosphere. After the wahas become hot enough to boll It can get no hotter, because the air escapes as fast as it is sufficiently heated

There are places on the earth where the pressure of the atmosphere upon the water is so slight tint it requires but little heat to push apart the particles and set free the air bubbles which are confined in the water, so it begins to boll before it becomes very bot. It ought hardly to be enfled cold from being as hot as ordinarily boiling water. This state of things is found on all high mountain tops, as the atmosphere grows weaker and its pressure less ns one ascends.

A man traveling at a great elevation in the Andes mountains put some potntoes in a pot of water over n hot fire. The water began to boll almost lmmediately, but the pointoes did not cook. All the afternoon and all the night the water bubbled and bolled, but still the potutoes were not cooked. The bolling water was not hot enough.

MYSTERY OF MERCURY.

An Unknown Factor That Causes the Planet's Erratio Motion.

The planet of Mercury is the smallest of the major planets and the nearest to the sun, which it circles in a little less than three months. It reaches its greatest distance from the sun at periods about sixty days npart. During the year Mercury is morning star three times and evenlig star three times. Owing to its nearness to the sun it is never visible for more than a perlod of about two hours after sunset or the same length of time before sunrise.

The eccentricity of its orbit is greater than that of any other major planet: its greatest and its least distance from the sun differ by nearly fifteen milllon miles, According to A. W. Mc-Curdy of the Royal Astronomical Soclety of Canada, the most remarkable characteristic in the motion of Mercury is that when it is nearest to the sun it travels fuster than it should if it moved only by the attraction of the known bodles of the solar system.

Astronomers have long sought un explanation of the necelerated motion. Some believe that there are other planets at present unknown between Mererry and the sun-bodies that although numerous are too small to be seen. The movements of Mercury indicate atclathence that might be accounted for by the presence of another planet revolving within its orbit. If such a planet really exists, there should come a time when it will appear as a dark spot moving across the face of the sun.

Another way to detect the presence of new plunets in the vicinity of the sun is to take observations during a total celipse. If there are no clouds at such a time the stars become vistble as the sun disappears. During the total eclipse of the sun in 1878 one observer suw un object that he thought might be the long sought planet, but no other astronomer has been able to confirm the discovery, and mnny now believe that the fildden source of the annsual movement of Mercury must be looked for eisewhere than in the orbit of the planet.

LIFE OF THE GUNS.

It Depends Upon How Long the Linings Can Resist Erosion.

The life of a gun depends upon the progress of erosion, which sooner or later is certain to impair the accuracy of fire. Eroslon is caused by the netion of the explosive gases at high temperature and pressure.

According to the Iron Age, the hot gases cause a thin tilm of steel to absorb hent. 'The film expands and becomes set. I'pon the release of the pressure it contracts, which causes minute cracks that grow larger with thing by, but thought it well first to every discharge. Do most educated people say " unique example" or "on unique exnumple?" In deference to the rule they probably write "an," but if you notice their prenounciation, when they are talking nuturally and not thinking of how they pronounce, they will almost Invariably say "a." And this is quite reatural, for "anique" begins with a consonant. It is pronounced "yuneek." Similarly most people say both "a bistory" and "a bistorical fact," maless they drop the consonant "h" and say om "Istorical fa t." – London v'hronicle.

A Distinctive Reason

What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?

There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.

This reason, which every woman should know, is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking

There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder.
